COLLEGE POINT YESTERDAY. . Twelve Hundred Democrats in White Hate with a Cleveland Banner and Good Appetites Make Things Merry All Day. Early yesterds, morning 1,200 men wearing tall white hats, and led by Cappa's band, paraded through the streets of the Twetnysixth Assembly district down to the foot of 128th street, where they boarded the steam boat Myndert Starin, bound for Donnelly's Grove in College Point. The occasion was the annual clambake of the Stuyvesant Democrade Club. The procession was divided into two divisions, with Alderman Samuel H. Bailey as Grand Marshal and William Arnold assistant. Michael R. O'Connor was marshal of the second division, with Charles Lambert as aide. A Cleveland and Stevenson banner was carried at the head of the procession, where the officers of the club marched eight abreast. Among them were William H. Burke, Presidentand the new leader of the district; Senator Jacob A. Cantor, Chairman of the Board of Managers: Dr. J. B. Donovan, First Vice-President; B. Donovan, Corresponding Secretary; Joseph E. Mass, Recording Secretary, and Frank McMullin, Treasurer.

When they arrived at the grove there was a were next in order, and the crowd adjourned to the field. John McDonna won the 200-yard run, and John McDonna won the 200-yard dash. The standing jump was captured by Percy Levy, and Dennis McGrath outstripped all his competitors in the running broad jump. McGrath also won the shooting match. The mile walk was won by James McCluskey, the potato race by Gustave Schwab, throwing the hammer by Nicholas J. Hayes, and putting the shot by William Harms.

The fat man's race was limited to contestants over 250 pounds. The other contestants were strung out along the course according to their weights. In a game of ball a team of the Metropolitan Police by a score of 18 to 3.

At the dinner table a gold-haaded cane was scramble for the breakfast table. Games

The vicinity of the club's headquarters in Lexington avenue was lined with fireworks on the return of the procession last night. Three hundred colored lanterns added to the ple-turesqueness of the scene, and Homan candles, rockets, firecrackers, and colored lights were set off in all directions. There were also sev-eral large pieces of fireworks.

AGAINST MRS. VAN BLOOTEN.

The Referee Decides that Harry Dodge Only Lent Her His Diamonds,

The referee appointed some time ago by Justice Cullen of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn. to take testimony in the suit of Mary L. Van Slooten against Charles H. Wheeler, as executor of the estate of the late Harry E. Dodge, filed his report yesterday, and it was against the plaintiff. The action was brought by Mrs. Van Slooten to recover the possession of a diamond ring which she alleged had been given to her by Mr. Dodge before his death in in 1886, and which the executor had obtained possession of without her consent. The refpossession of without her consent. The referee in his finding says that the ring was only loaned to Mrs. Van Slooten.

Mrs. Van Slooten also had a suit before the same referce, alleging that the estate was indebted to her in the sum of $20,000, due to a real estate transaction, and a check was given to her at the time for that amount. The plaintiff still retains the check, but the referee has decided that there is no proof that Mr. Dodge, on whom it was drawn, had not paid it before his death.

Under the will, which was probated in July, 1886, Mrs. Van Slooten, with whom Mr. Dedge boarded, received a legacy of $30,000, which has been paid in full.

ACCUSES THEM OF BLACKMAIL

Mrs. Coleman Says Briggs and Hewitt Do clared They Were Gerry Agents.

Capt. Doherty arrested, three weeks ago, Lizzie Coleman for keeping an alleged disorderly house at 28 Second avenue. Her child, a girl 10 years old, was in the apartments at the time the place was raided. Justice Hogan sent the child to the Catholic Protectory. Mrs. Coleman was sentenced to imprisonment for ten days. She says that yesterday afternoon two men called on her. They said they were agents of the Gerry society, and could obtain the release of her child if she paid them $300. the release of her child if she paid them $300. She replied that she couldn't pay anything, and the men then threatened to arrest her. She says she had a suspicion that the men were not agents for the Gerry society. She followed them into the street, called a policeman, and had them arrested. In Essex Market resterday they said they were John Briggs of 602 Amsterdam avenue and William Hewlitt of 2,083 Arthuravenue. Briggs is a conductor and Hewlit a driver. They deny the woman's story. They say she was on their car recently, and started a firitation with them. By invitation they called at her house, and she caused their arrest.

WHO ROBBED GRAHAM

He Loses Diamonds and Cash, but They e Not Found on the Man Arrested, William Adler, a tailor, of 74 East 125th street, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning on his way home saw a man bending over another who lay in a drunken sleep on a doorstep. Adler hurried away and told Policeman O'Leary of the East 126th street station, who or Leary of the East 1-20th street station, who arrested the man. He said he was William Keeland, 20 years old, of 271 East 117th street. Policeman O'Leary aroused the sleeper, who gave his name as Stewart R. Graham of 174 East Seventy-ninth street. He missed his watch and chain and his diamond stud, in all valued at $400, and $27 in cash. Nothing but a letter and a penknife, which Graham identical ship, were found on the prisoner, and he field as his, were found on the prisoner, and he declared he had found them on the sidewalk. Graham said he had been drinking with friends whom he felt sure would not rob him although he only had a dim recollection of whom they were. Keeland was held for examination.

AERONAUTS IN PERIL. The Adventure of Three Frenchmen Of the Coast of France.

From the London Standard.

Coast of France.

From the London Standard.

Paris, July 18.—M. Besançon, one of the three aeronauts rescued from the car of the balloon Jupiter, has given an account of his perilous adventure. The balloon was carried out to sea immediately it left the grounds of the Havre Casino. M. Besançon at once opened the escape valve and attached the cone anchor to a cord eighty metres long. The storm was so violent that it broke the cord, and from that moment the seronauts lost all command over the balloon. At about 10 o'clock the car was being dragged through the waves. The aeronauts heard distinctly the voices of fishermen in their boats which from time to time passed near them; but the night was so dark that all command the might was so dark that after regarding themselves as irretrievably lost, the balloon.

At last, after regarding themselves as irretrievably lost, the balloon at about 3 o'clock suddenly rose to an altitude of over 2,000 metres. The hopes of the aeronauts then revived; but by 5 o'clock in the morning the car was once more being dragged along in the sea. All the ballast had been thrown out and the aeronauts had also taken off their coats and thrown them away to lighten the car. All three of the aeronauts were worn out with fatigue and benumbed with cold. M. Demeyer had thus lost the power of speech. They were all thoroughly discouraged, when they perceived the mast of a ship in the distance. Their signals of distress were seen, and the ship bore down upon them. A boat was putout and the aeronauts were pulled into it. The aeronauts, who were taken on board the ship Germania, were treated with great kindness, and were at noon transferred to the French sloop Heine des Anges, which put them ashore at Camaret, near Brest.

M. Demeyer, who is a young man of 26, has related to a journalist with what difficulty he threw the bags of hellast out of the car while it was being dragged through the waves, and with what pleasure he saw the halloon rise when he had thrown the last hag overboard. It was after the ba

WAGON RACE ON SIXTH AVENUE. It Mosaite in the Arrest of Philanthropis

A citizen told Roundsman John Townsend of the West Thirty-seventh street station in West Thirty-fourth street yesterday morning that he had just seen a roughly dressed man rob a fashionably attired man at Thirty-fourth street and Eighth avenue. The victim, according to the citizen, was drunk when the thief approached him, and, after backing him against a fence, went through his nockets The citizen saw the thief take the drunken man up to a cab and try to put him in it. The driver of the cab refused to take the fare, however, and the thief hailed a passing expressman, and, after talking with him a moment, put the drunken man in the wagen, and, mounting the seat with the driver, drove away. All this happened not two minutes before the roundsman heard of it. The express wagon was still in sight, but going at a good pace. The roundsman started after the wagon, He was almost up with it when the driver began to whip up his horses. A news wager was passing and the roundsman hailed it, and after explaining matters went rattling after the express wagon. It was a hot chase. The newsman's horse, somewhat of a speeder, and having a lighter load, soon had the roundsman abreast of the fugitives.

The express driver, seeing further flight useless, pulled un. Roundsman Townsend arrested the driver and his companion, and, with the drunken man, who lay quietly in the bottom of the wagen, drove to the Thirty-seventh street station. The prisoners said they were Thomas Cochrane of 442 West Thirty-second street and Charles Felancy of 444 Eight avenue. The citizen, who had gone to the station house, identified Cochrane as the man he saw rifling the drunken man's pockets. The drunken man said he was Robert Stewart, a lawyer of Edinburgh, Scotland, here on a vacation. He has been stopping in the Sherwood House, at Thirty-fourth street and Third avenue. newsman's horse, somewhat of a speeder, and land, here on a vacation. He has been stopping in the Sherwood House, at Thirty-fourth street and Third avenue.

Cochrane and Felaney were taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court, and the lawyer was locked up in the station house, where he will remain until to-day. Cochrane told Justice Grady that Stewart stopped him on the street and asked to be taken to the Sherwood House. Btewart could't walk, so Cochrane tried to put him in a cab. The cabman wouldn't take Stewart unless he was paid first. Cochrane said he had no money, and he made up his mind that if the lawyer wanted to ride to the hotel he would have to pay his own way. Cochrane searched the lawyer's pockets and found $4. He gave $2 to the driver of the express wagon and put the other $2 hack in the lawyer's pocket. He said he had no intention of robbing Stewart. Felaney merely said that Cochrane gave him $2 to drive the stranger across town. Both men were remanded until to-day, when Stewart will be able to appear against them.

PROFIT IN GOOSE FARMS.

All that is Needed in $1,000 and a Little Knowledge of the Business.

From the Helena Independent. What will the men who run chicken ranches in Montana think of a new scheme to make money out of the leathered tribo when they read this? The figures show that the hen industry is not in it. One thousand geese, according will each row a read to the good of the first year the goods farmer will find himself the lucky owner of 7,000 geese, the second year the number will be increased to 42,000 in the same ratio. Dennis Flahorty, 17 years old, living in the double tenement 1.848 Second avenue. was held yesterday in $1,000 bail for trial in the heid yesterday in $1,000 bail for trial in the Harlem Court on the charge of criminally assaulting ten-year-old Jennie Hannah, who lives in the same house. Flaherty, the girl says, met her in the hall on Wednesday evening and induced her to go down to the cellar. When they reached the cellar Flaherty threw her down and assaulted her. Jennie was badly injured and was committed to the Gerry society, her parents being too poorto care for her.

Mrs. Kester Must Appear in Court.

Hubert Windsor, who on Wednesday night snatched a pocket book from Mrs. Theresa Kester of 500 West Forty-sixth street as she was about to get on a Fourth avonue car, was brought yesterday to the Essex Market Court and remanded. Mrs. Rester on Wednosday night wouldn't makes charge against Windows because the purse contained only 32 cents. She didn't appear in court yesterday, and Justice Hogan issued a summons for her.

Regular Services Begin To-day-200 Tents

Sino Sino, Aug. 4.—The sixty-first annual session of the New York and Hudson River Camp Meeting Association opened to-day at Sing Sing Heights, on the old historic ground of the association. The meeting will last ten days. This year it is under the supervision of days. This year it is under the supervision of the Rev. C. E. Miller, D. D., assisted by the Rev. A. C. Morehouse, the Rev. Thomas Harrison, and the trustees of the association. Regular services will begin to-morrow.

There were fifty-four families in the camp to-day. They are comfortably located in tents and cottages, which are furnished with all convenience for camp life. There are 200 tents and cottages on the camp grounds, and by Raturday all of them will be occupied. A large dining tent is located in the shade, where the campers will be fed.

Thespians in the Boston Court,

Boston, Aug. 4.-Three theatrical lawsuits were instituted here yesterday. Edward M. Favor has sued Pauline Hall's manager, George B. McLellan, for an entire season's wages, Favor was engaged for Miss Hall's new opera-Puritania." but was retired on two weeks' "Puritania." but was retired on two weeks' notice. He had no written contract with the singer or her manager, but his lawyer makes the point that a verbal contract in theatricals implies a full season's engagement, and he will try to establish the precedent here. Charles Charters, an actor, has sued A. M. De Lisser, manager of "The Westerner." for wages due last season. H. Percy Meldon has sued Dr. George Edgar Lothrop, manager of the Grand Museum, for breach of contract and a season's salary. Meldon was stage manager for Lothrop, whom he now accuses of pirating popular plays and presenting them in disguise. Lothrop's friends declare that Meldon was aware of the plagiarism at the time, but that he failed to make complaint until after his discharge by Lothrop.

Couldn't Get a Drink-Came Back with Ruife.

John Kirk, a plumber, living at 254 West Nineteenth street, entered the saloon of James Soden, at 231 West Nineteenth street, at 10 Soden, at 231 West Nineteenth street, at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, walked up to the bar, and, in a loud voice, demanded a drink. Mr. Soden was behind the bar. As Kirk was drunk he refused to serve him. Kirk made a fuss and was put out. About half an hour later he returned with a big carving knife. He made a lunge at Mr. Soden, who threw up his arm. The knife made a severe gash in his wrist. Policeman Corwille was summoned before the man could do any more harm. A Jefferson Market yesterday morning Justice Grady held Kirk in $1,000 bail for trial.

For a Fair Division of the Waters of the Hto Grande.

Fr. Paso, Aug. 4.-The acting Governor of Chihushus and the Governor elect of that State have arrived here for the purpose of State have arrived here for the purpose of holding a conference with the officers of the United States with regard to a division of the waters of the Rio Grande River for irrigation purposes. This question is of especial interest to the people on the borders of Texas and Mexico. The scarcity of water in the river and the catching of the overflow by means of dams by the Mexicans has caused much damage to the crops of the farmers on the American side. The conference began to-day.
